"Black Friday 2009" CD

It's 2009 and Europe's leading hardcore band Black Friday '29 are back with the most crucial and inevitable release to date: 'Black Friday 2009'. A clear and pissed-off statement full of aggression, straightforwardness and social criticism. Musically the band plays their self-created traditional hardcore style even further: heavier, catchier and more extensive than any of their previous recordings.

Chris (Let it Burn Records CEO) about Black Friday 29: "The world's going to hell, it's craziness and confusion everywhere, even in the underground music scene. There are hardly any ways to counter freaky trends and desperate deeds aside from sticking to true, original hardcore qualities such as trust, loyalty and dedication. For more than 7 years Black Friday '29 have personified these traits more than any other European Hardcore Band. They are one of the few cornerstones in this scene you can blindly rely on and believe me, we are more than proud and completely filled with pleasant anticipation to release the band's brand new output 'Black Friday 2009'."

Here's what the band has to say about the collaboration with Let it Burn Records: "We are very happy about working together with Let it Burn on our new album: 'Black Friday 2009'. Our frontman and founder Björn and long time member Pete have known Chris (Let it Burn Records) for almost 10 years now since playing together with their old bands (Homerun and I) in ca. 2000. From then on all of them always appreciated the others work in bands, labels and other efforts. So finally we found a way of cooperating with Chris and his label on our newest output. We view it as a continuation from working together with Blacktop Records, as Blacktop and Let it Burn have been working together successfully in the past years and both work in a similar manner. We're stoked!"

'Black Friday 2009'* contains 9 brand new tracks and is to be released on Black Friday, May 29, 2009.
